Leslie R. Hinds

Dedication

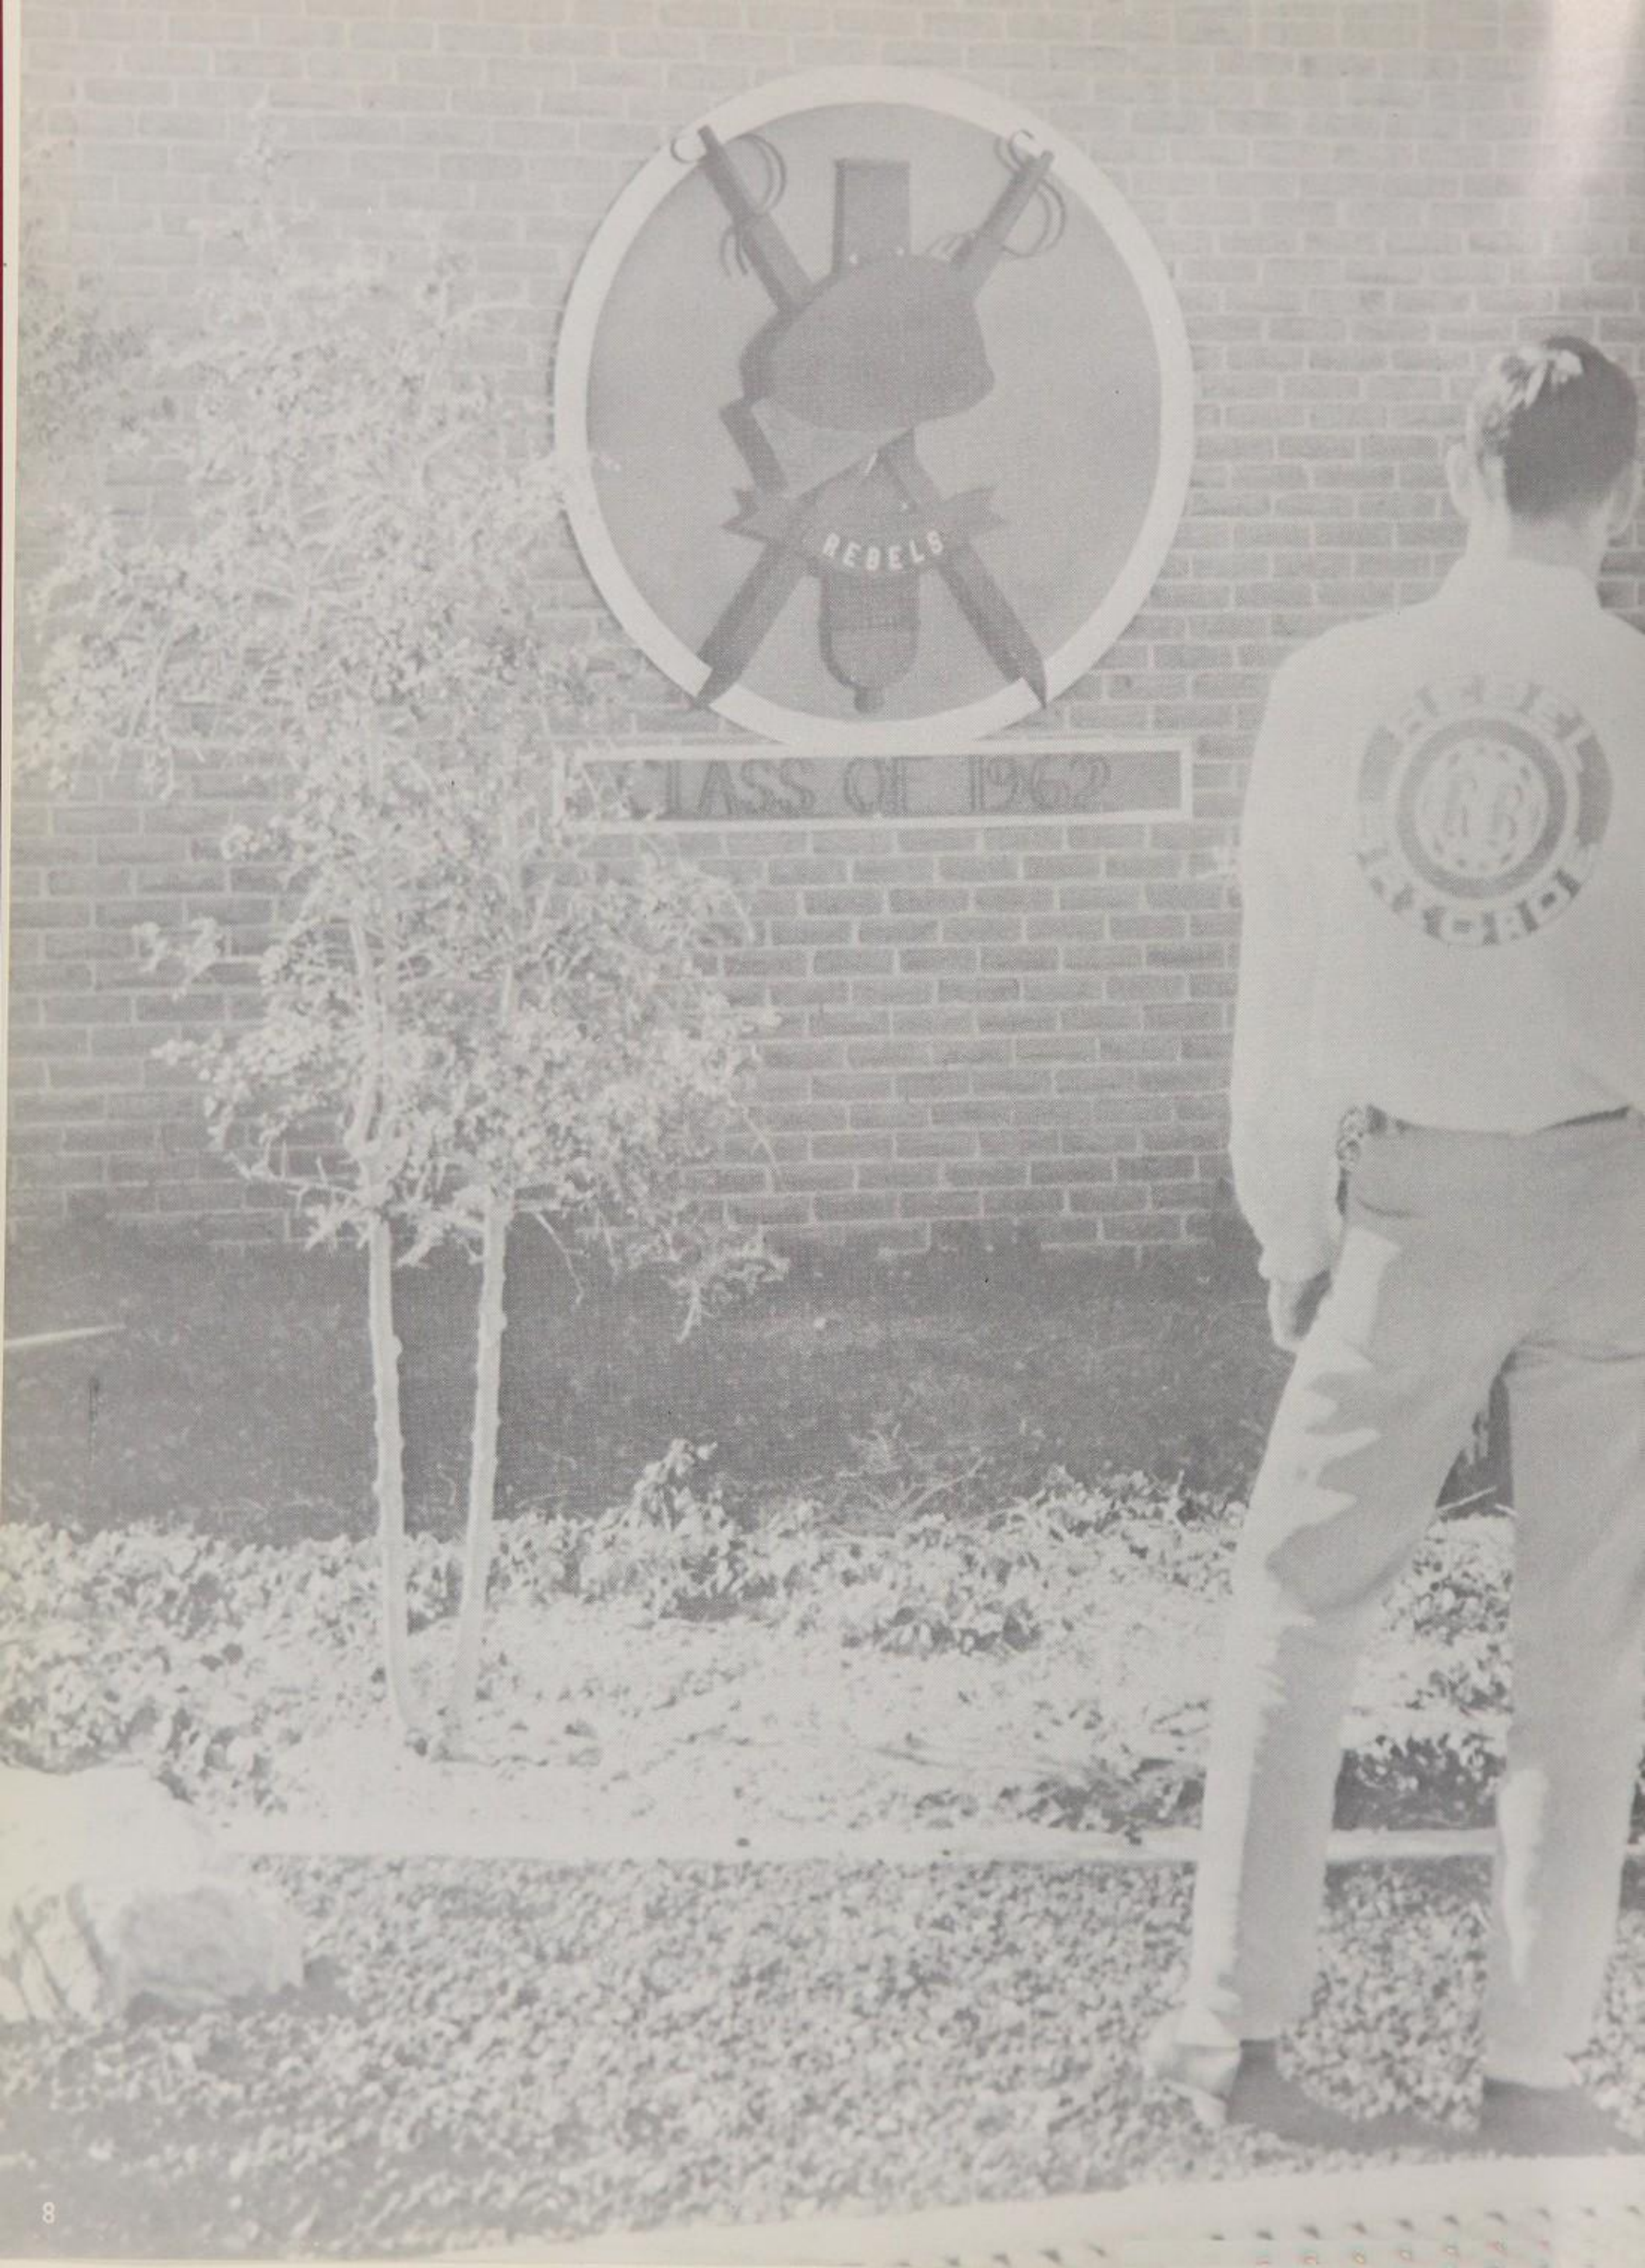
Years of meticulous planning and innumerable decisions are necessary in the construction of the modern high school. The most important choice does not involve architecture or air conditioning, but men. In January, 1961, as wonderfully equipped Robert E. Lee High School neared completion, Leslie R. Hinds was appointed its principal. His was the tedious task of seeing that the new building fulfilled its function of education.

Mr. Hinds set a high standard of leadership for faculty and students alike. From the first he expected the best from each of them, forging a strong bond between teachers, pupils, and the administration as all worked to benefit their school. His firmness in handling school policy earned him the respect of those who worked with him, and his wise counsel on proposed measures became highly valued. Through his familiarity with all aspects of school life he became an integral part of each phase, making his students feel his personal interest not only in their projects, but in them.

Today, Lee stands strong and stable as a tribute to the untiring effort and faithful leadership of its principal. To him, Leslie R. Hinds, this third REBELEE is dedicated in gratitude for his winning spirit which has permeated the entire student body and has become the spirit of Robert E. Lee High School.

Mr. Hinds — a leader of his Faculty.

Mr. Hinds — a guide to his student body.



REBELS
CLASS OF 1962

The Rebel Emblem represents to the students and faculty of Lee High School, as well as to the community, the Rebel Spirit that is so uniquely our own. The Emblem belongs to no special group, but to the student body as a whole. Each section of the 1964 REBELEE features a part of the symbol.

The backbone of the Emblem is the cannon. Similarly, the Faculty is the strength of the school's program and fulfills its real purpose—education. The hat, representing the Classes, is the center of the Emblem just as the student body is the center of Lee High School. They are the reason that Lee exists. Behind the hat are the two sabers. The weapons in the hands of its soldiers determine victory or defeat for an army. Through student Activities and Sports come our success or failure.

The name of our school, Robert E. Lee, encircles the symbol. Our Organizations "name" our school in our community. Between the crossed sabers is another name, "Rebels." This identifies the Emblem as outstanding "Rebels" identify each school year. The Personalities are these special "Rebels" of 1964. Midland, Texas, is the third name on the Emblem and furnishes its foundation. In likeness the support of our Advertisers make this annual possible.

These separate parts combine to become the complete Emblem as the sections of our yearbook join to recall our whole school year. We sincerely hope that as you proceed in this REBELEE that you are able to vividly remember and enjoy again the never-to-be-forgotten memories of 1964.

A Dream Come True

On November 18, 1963, a most important Rebel dream finally became reality. The Lee Youth Center, under the direction of Mr. Henry Schreiner, was opened to the students of Lee and MHS. The combined efforts of the Youth Center Board; Mr. Jay Haney, director of the Midland Youth Center; the Junior Councils and 100 Clubs of both schools; and three years of fund-raising drives built these modern and complete facilities. To all the people of Midland who contributed their time and money to make the Lee Youth Center "dream come true" these pages are dedicated.

Counselors Have 1800 Problems

Extending a word of advice and understanding, members of the counseling staff prove themselves invaluable to Lee. LHS counselors share the responsibility of counseling this year's extra large freshman class. Students were divided by homerooms for aid in problem solving and schedule planning. Counseling the senior class has presented the challenge of preparing Lee graduates for their future. Handling the scheduling of entrance exams, the applications for scholarships, and the writing of letters of recommendation for future college students are only part of this important job.

Efficient Staff Handles Clerical Duties

The pulse of any organization is centered in its administrative officers. So it is at Lee that the school clerks work to keep the academic machinery operating smoothly and effectively. Incoming and outgoing telephone calls, handling of students' permanent records, and the financial details of school functions and services give employment to a staff of able clerks and assistants.

Library Improves Literary Tastes

Improving the reading fare of Rebels is the goal undertaken by the Lee library and English Department. There is a growing tendency among English teachers to assign "classic" literature for book reports and many students have discovered that the "better books" are that indeed. A large selection of reference works and periodical literature prove to be very helpful to students in writing research papers and making reports.

Mrs. Anderson helps students to check out books and find references for special reports.

Literature and Grammar

Teaching young Americans to communicate properly and to appreciate the vast store of literature that has been written in the English language is the aim of the well-organized and efficient staff of teachers in the English department. Fundamentals of grammar and public speaking and reading of great masterpieces of the world's literature assure students of an excellent background to use in advanced English study.

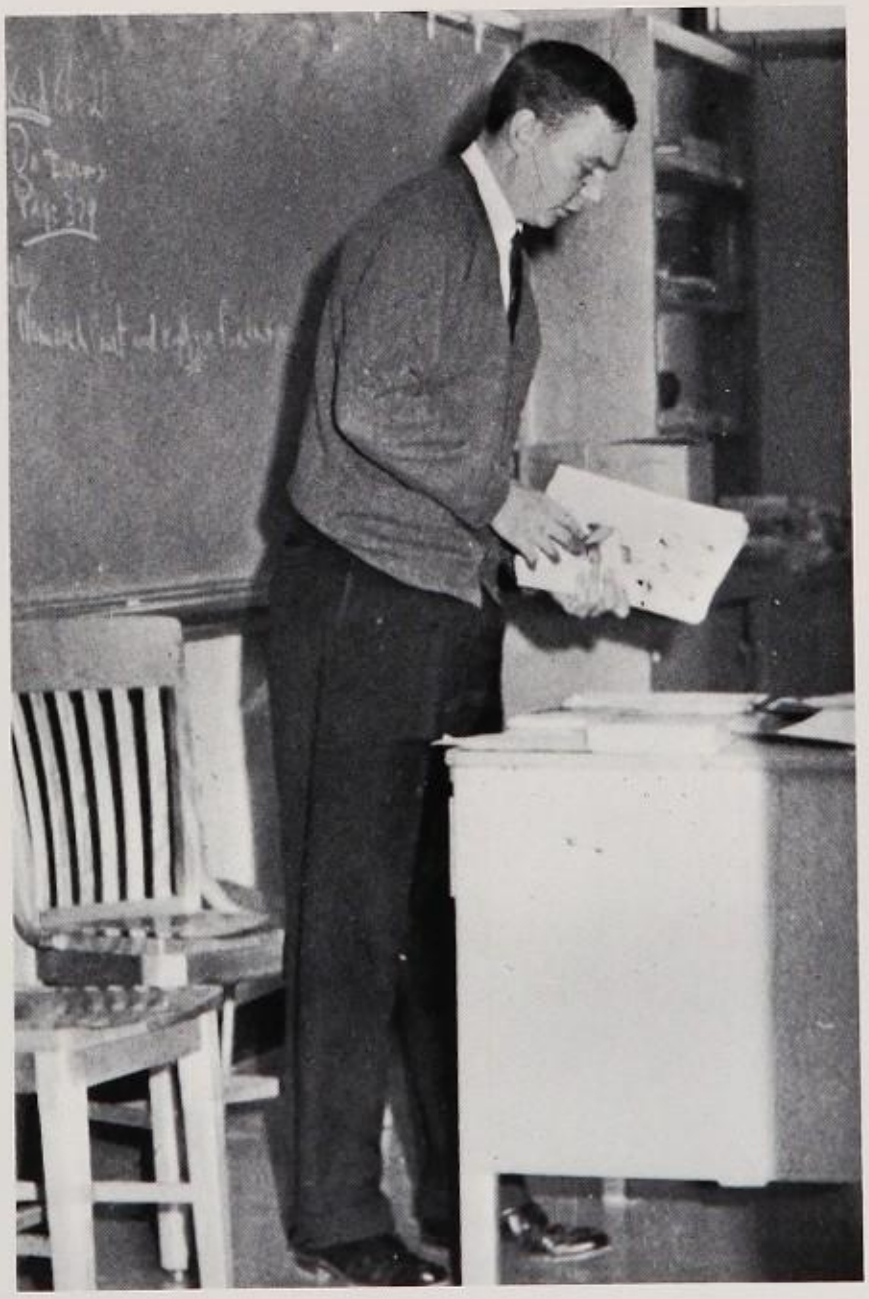
Prepares Future Voters

Each Rebel is prepared to accept the responsibility that will come with his twenty-first birthday by the social studies department. Certain requirements insure LHS graduates a background in world history, American history, and government. Classes also examine the present in scheduled and spontaneous discussion of current events. Often, these sessions lead to speculations on the future as students attempt to understand and solve the world's problems.



Mr. Baker prepares his students for the future by helping them to be better informed citizens.

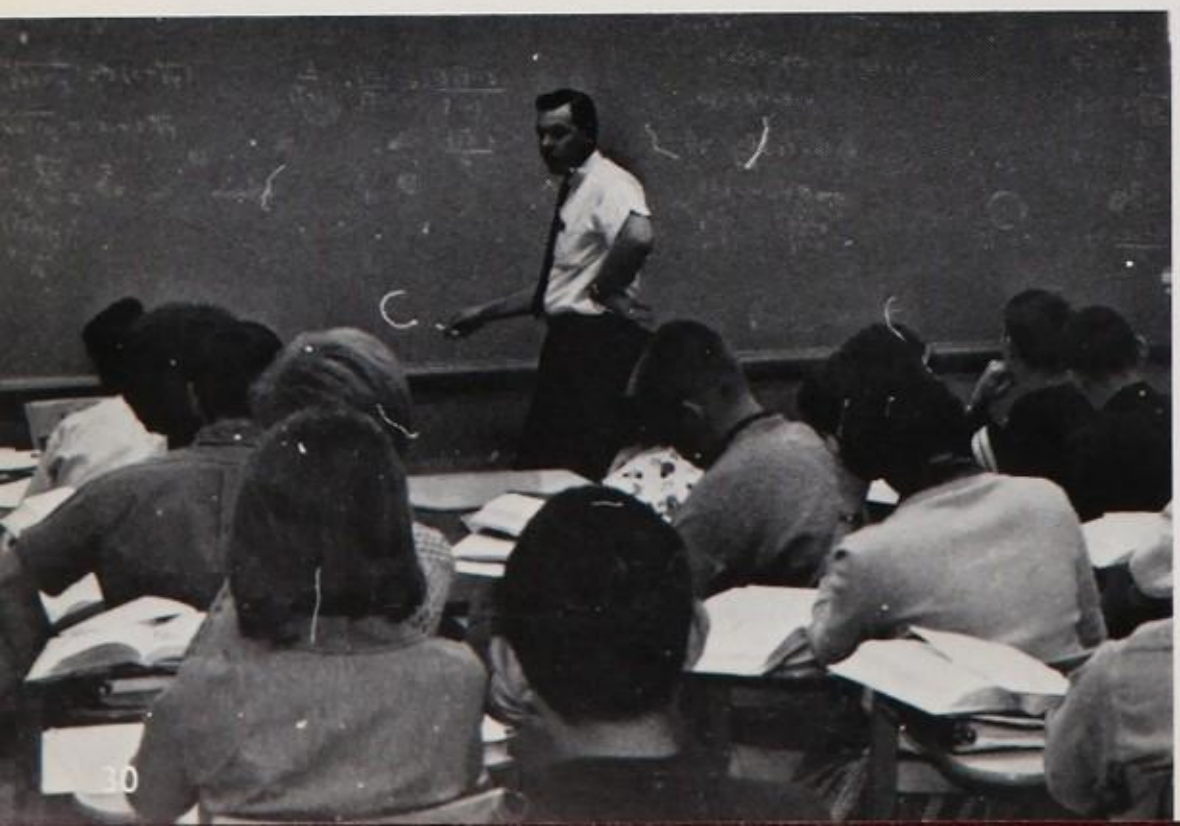
Profs Teach Third "R" to Modern Theme



'Rithmetic, the third of the traditional three R's, continues to play a major part in education. In modern "school days" the study of numbers is intended to develop a student's ability to analyze and apply, in addition to teaching him the operations of simple addition and subtraction.

Science Students Probe New Worlds

With emphasis on studies in the physical sciences increasing every year, Lee's science department continues in its efforts to make its offerings as practical and as up-to-date as possible. Experienced teachers and excellent textbooks have made the experimental side looked forward to by the students.

Physics class, headed by Mr. Hooper, studies wave motion by building "ripple tank."

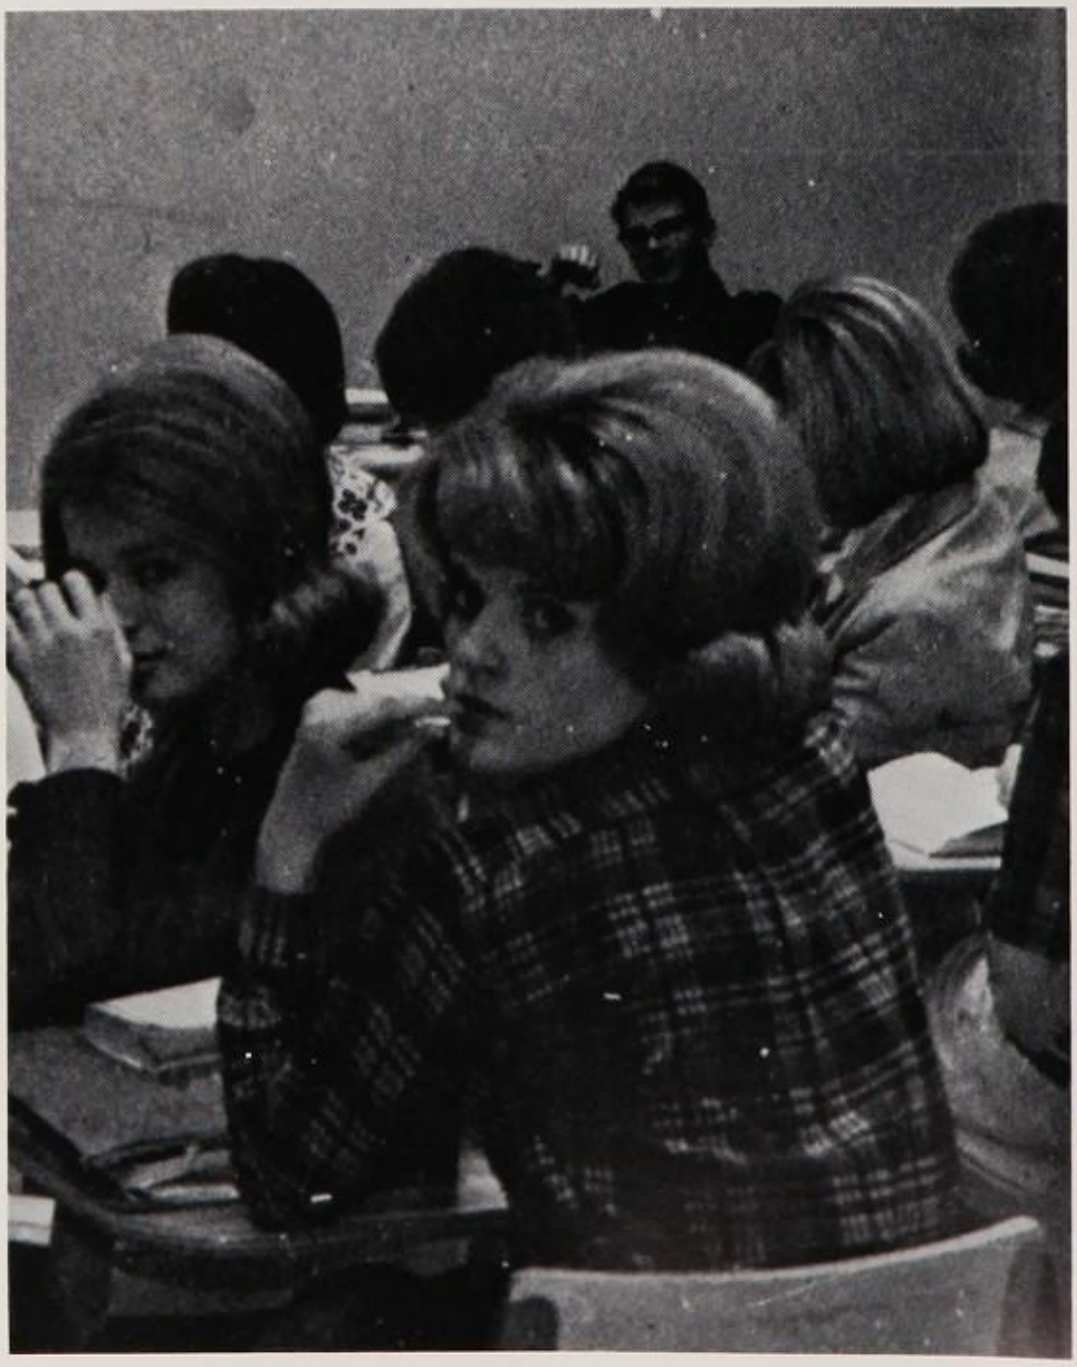
LHS Meets Today's Need for Languages

The great need for American students to study foreign languages becomes more apparent every year. The Lee Foreign Language Department seeks to meet this need by offering courses in Spanish, French, and Latin. Making use of modern equipment and well-trained teachers, students work in laboratories to master speaking and writing skills in their chosen foreign language. As they master the tongue of other peoples, linguists discover an insight into their problems and customs.



French II with Mr. Kessler can be most entertaining.

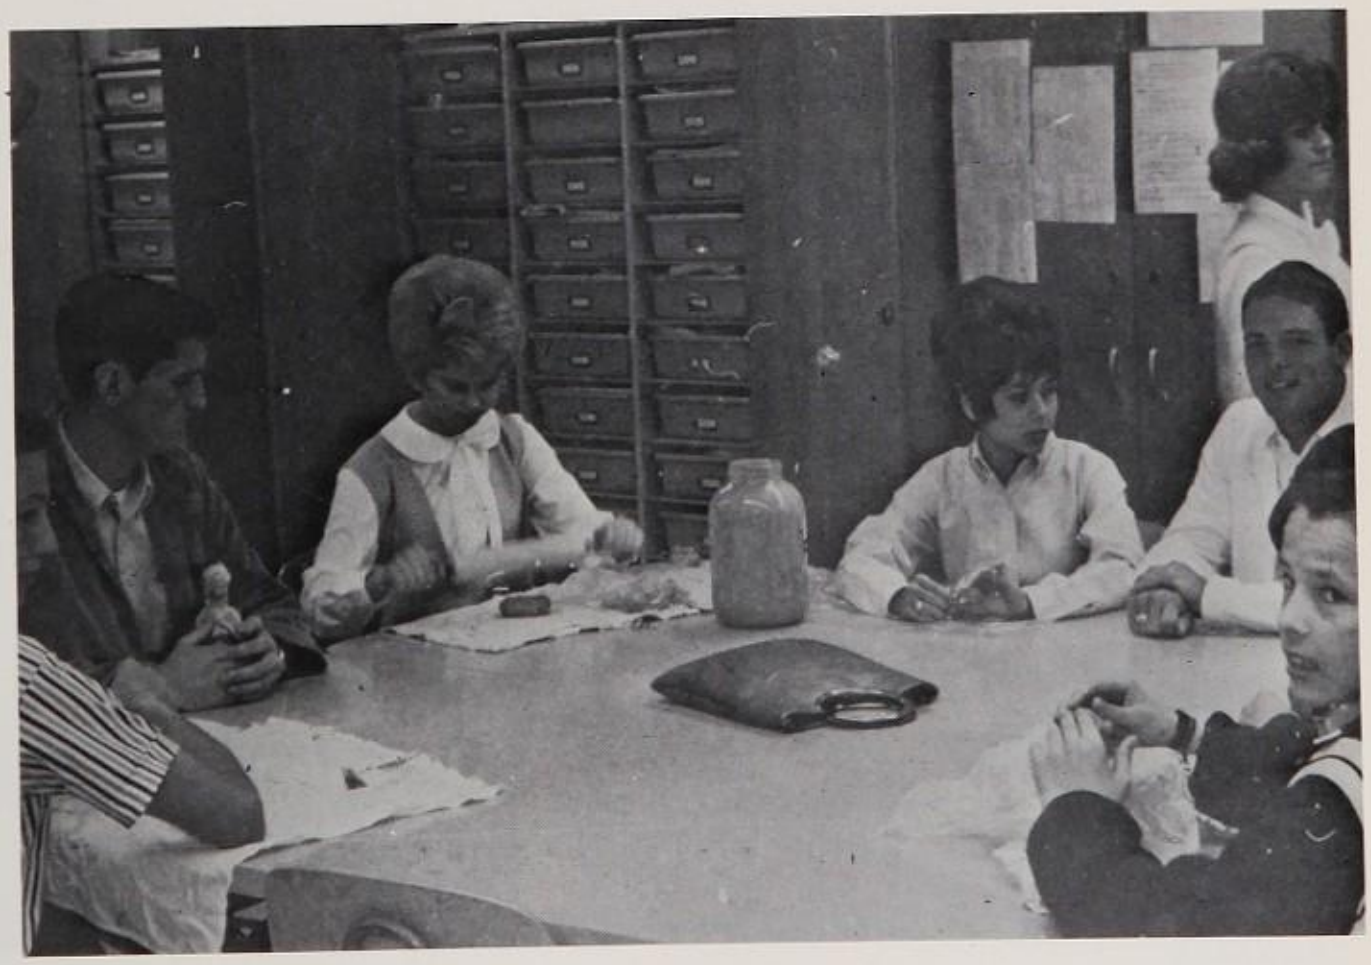
Creative Rebels Cast Molds of Culture

Opportunities to create are given to talented Rebels in the art and music departments. Skill developed by art students range from soap carving to oil painting.

LHS is often represented in the community by its music department. The marching band appears at football games with traditional half-time shows while the choirs sing before various civic groups and in junior high assemblies.



"We're all waiting for the pie." Various techniques are used in the Art Classes.

Future Wives, Shop Students Try Special Skills

To help each girl reach her ultimate goal of becoming a successful wife and mother, Lee's Homemaking Department offers a variety of courses in domestic skills. Laboratory projects provide valuable experience in learning to cook and sew.

Future draftsmen, engineers, and builders learn their crafts in the metal shop and woodworking departments. These students fulfill their desires to create as they spend hours planning, designing, and constructing their handiwork.

Home Ec girls, realizing the way to their future husbands' hearts, try out their cooking skills with teacher, Marlene Wessleman.

Business Skills Offer Basis for Jobs

Mrs. Cason times students for better speed along with accuracy.

The "work-a-day world" comes alive in one phase of curriculum in Lee each day as future typists, bookkeepers, secretaries, and office workers go about the tasks of learning business skills. Secretarial hopefuls learn the fundamentals they can use in business jobs as well as everyday life. Accuracy and neatness become the watchwords of these students whose natural abilities are developed during the year.

Physical Education Department Stresses Fitness

Daily calisthenics are a part of every girls' P.E. class.

A program emphasizing physical fitness and competitive spirit is followed by Lee's physical education department. Tests in exercise and endurance are given in the fall and repeated in the spring to show each student's improvement in comparison with that of fellow Rebels and of other American teen-agers. Sportsmanship is taught along with such competitive sports as football, basketball, track, tennis, golf, and swimming.

After 3 years, Lee retains the look of a new building. This is due to the efficient staff of custodians who perform the daily tasks of maintenance. The friendly workers take pride in the school's neat appearance.

Also vital to LHS is the cafeteria staff which plans and prepares hot lunches for students and teachers.

Class of '64

When the time comes for us to leave school life behind us, our thoughts turn in review of our three years at Lee. As memories of the good times return, we are conscious that through every thought runs a vein of fondness for the colorful halls, the familiar classrooms; and we feel a tremendous sense of loss as we bid farewell to everything. Then there comes to us a feeling of gratitude; for the training—for the beliefs—for the dreams and for the ideas Lee has given us. We are now able "to be rather than to be seen."

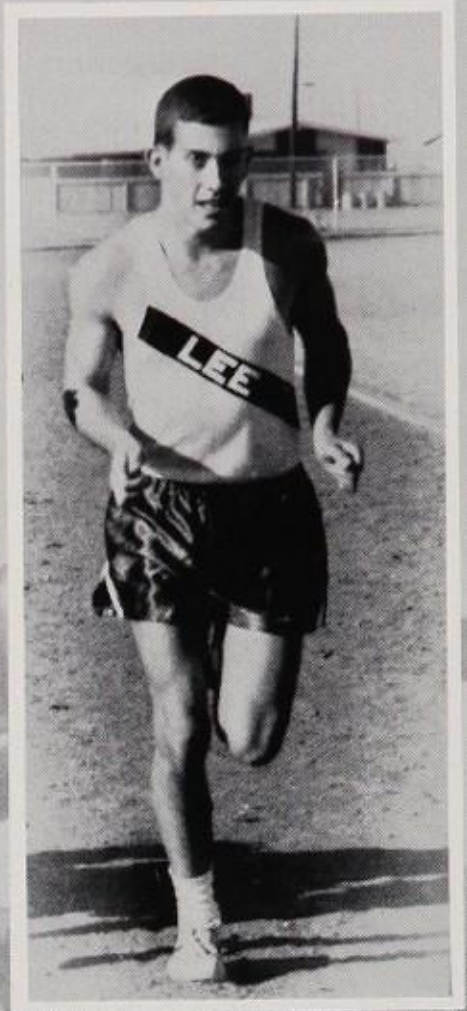
Reverence, Love, Gratitude
The Will to Obey and
The Will to Serve

Michael D. Douglas

11-5-'63



I can still see
Those eyes—full of delight,
The mouth—ever a smile,
An armload of books on one hip
And the walk that so resembled youthful confidence.

Always I'll recall
That sense of fun,
The effervescent good will
The sportsmanship,
And—the obedience to duty
That was Mike Douglas.

He was so much a Senior,
A representative of an age;
His imprint lingers in the halls
Where he walked only awhile ago.

So—I'll close my eyes
And remember.
And I'll smile.

"Tomorrow, and Tomorrow, and Tomorrow"

The Senior Class of 1964

Class of '65

In the fall of 1963, we hit L.H.S. full steam ahead to make the most of our junior year. With the memory of two years at Lee, we met the constant flow of homework, pep rallies, skipped lunches, and frazzled nerves. To our vocabulary we added such words as Mrs. Parr, Mr. Devenport, bangle sales, and powder puff football. We became absorbed with anticipation of the Junior-Senior Prom . . . as the Juniors of 1964.

SWEET nothings!!!!

Class of '66

Not yet with the swagger of seniors but no longer with the fear of freshmen, the Sophomore Class returned in September of 1963. So quickly were we burdened with homework, we had no time to assume an attitude and become engrossed in the privilege of looking down on freshmen. We could be found almost anywhere . . . in the between-class rush . . . yelling our heads off at pep rallies . . . storming the cafeteria and Youth Center at noon . . . slaving on our Homecoming Float . . . anywhere there was work to be done.

Class of '67

September of 1963 beckoned the underdog Freshman Class to the beginning of their four-year stay at L.H.S. Preliminary feelings of awe and jitters were lessened at orientation when the cheerleaders welcomed us to the school. Quickly fitting into the picture, we soon found we were joining the upperclassmen in a nine-month obstacle course of exams, homework, reports, and other necessary habits. All told, our first year at Lee was not so bad or hectic as our upperclassmen friends would have had us believe.

Junior Council

We finally got our Lee Youth Center after two years of hard work and the Junior Council has finally been rewarded. The slave and ticket sales plus all the planning for dances have been well worthwhile. Under the direction of Mr. Henry Schreiner the Junior Council has started a fund for furnishings for the Youth Center.

Though the staff of the Rebelee has sometimes had a little trouble meeting deadlines, and getting pictures taken, they have worked hard to produce Lee's first summer annual. By including all the year's activities, the staff has tried to publish an annual with the real Rebel Spirit.

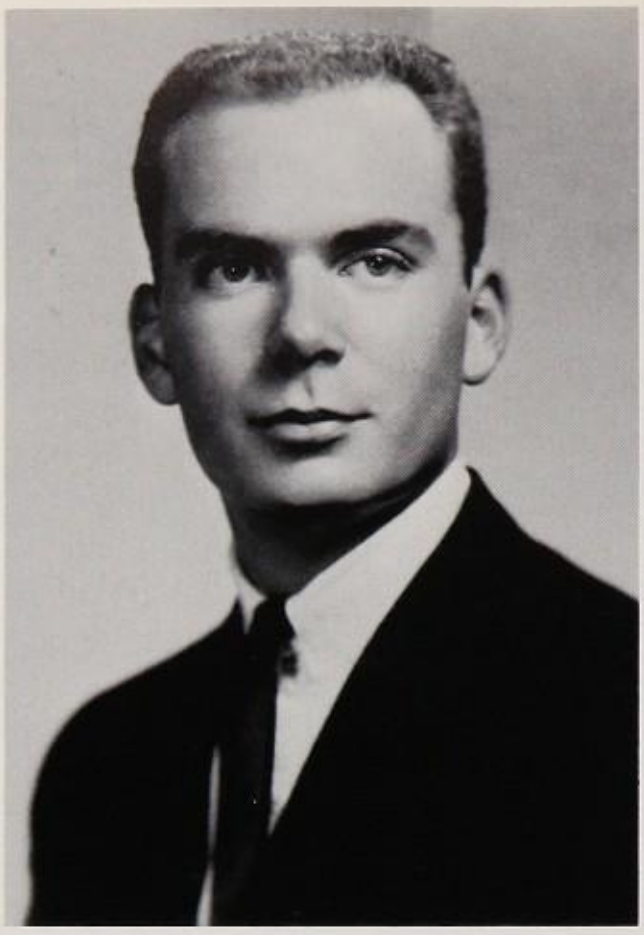
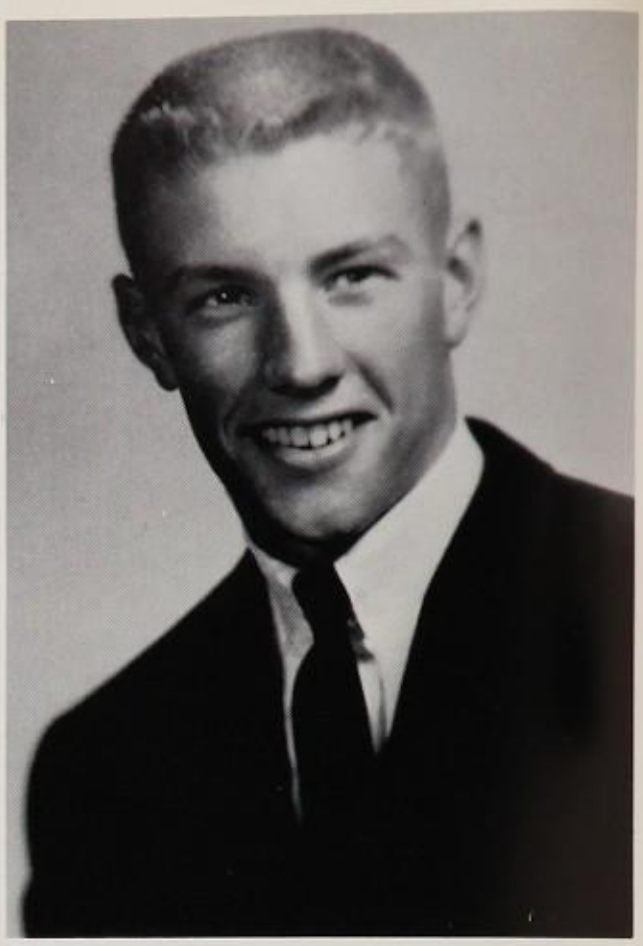
JACK HANKS was the most outstanding member at Boys' State. He was a member of the Longhorn Party and was elected Lt. Governor. He then went as a delegate to Boy's Nation and there was elected Vice-President.



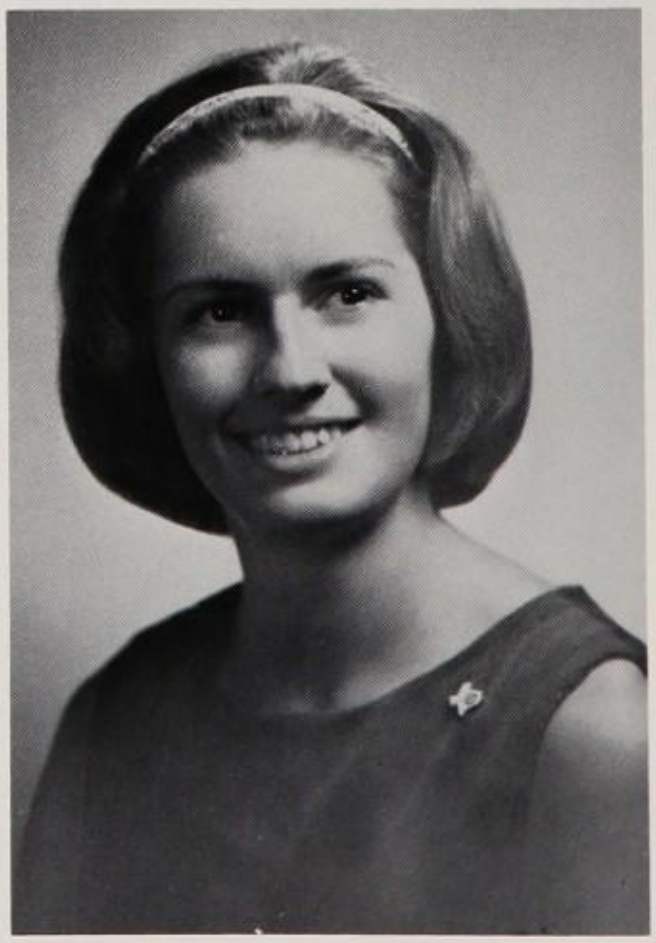
BOB MEADOWS was chairman of the Longhorn Party and a member of the Board of Control.



BILL SHEPHERD was a member of the Pioneer Party and Chairman of the Texas Youth Council and Boy's State 1963.

Boys' and Girls' State

There is no better way to learn about our government than to participate in it. This is what the Boy's and Girl's State programs offer, and thus help prepare the citizens of tomorrow. These non-partisan programs of instruction are held separately in our capital city of Austin each June. Those participating in this program are instructed in the duties, privileges, and rights of the American citizen.



At Girls' State 1963, JEAN LEEPER was a member of the Nationalist Party, elected County Commissioner and was a member of the House of Representatives.

Music's the cordial of a troubled breast,
The softest remedy that grief can find.

John Oldham

Education in music is most sovereign, because more than anything else rhythm and harmony find their way into the secret places of the soul.

Plato

Diploma in hand, a departing Senior pauses before the Rebel Emblem. He has passed this way every day during his years at Lee, but now the emblem takes on new significance. Suddenly, his whole perspective changes.

Stretched before him in its unique beauty is the campus which he seldom noticed as a student. The numerous experiences of daily life, absorbed into his very being with little conscious attention, come surging forth with poignance—the quiet desperate hours before finals, the contagious gaiety of Friday afternoons, the anxious days before Student Council elections, the off-key singing of the fight song, the enthusiastic Youth Center dances, and the thrill of winning a championship game. What a singular flavor these have given the high school days!

The cannon; the hat; the two crossing sabers; the three "names," "Rebels," Robert E. Lee, and Midland, Texas, are the same as yesterday, but from his new vantage point he sees reflected through them the blending of the diverse elements which create for each student a never-to-be-forgotten experience—Lee in Unity.

Rebels Take Third at State

Regional Champions

In the opening game with Lubbock, Lee had all sorts of trouble. The Plainsmen capitalized on Lee errors with their jackrabbit speed on the base paths to beat the Rebels 4-3. It was 4-0 going into the last inning. Bucky Kimble launched the rally followed by Lance Kitchens, Kenny Jastrow, and Jack Hanks; three runs were scored, but this was not enough to win.

This first loss did not come close to stopping the Rebels. They came back to pack up two wins over Monterey, 10-5 and 10-5, because the Rebels knew they were the best team and proved it. The Rebels had 20 runs on 24 hits, 11 of which were for extra bases. Lee won the first of the two by stepping out to a 5-1 lead after three innings. When Monterey rallied for 3 runs in the fifth to trim the margin to 5-4, the Rebels simply came back with another 4-run burst to sew-it-up. The nightcap remained undecided until the Reb fifth when a 6-run burst ripped the top off the contest. Kenny Jastrow was the one who started the rally when he hit a three-run homer in the fifth. After this sweep the mighty Rebels were bound for State at Austin.

Kenny Jastrow starts the rally with a three-run homer in the fifth inning of the second game with Monterey.

Bill Tillman, running for Dwayne Casbeer, slides home in the fourth inning of the second game with Monterey but is called out.

Bidistrict Champions

The Lee Rebels were wondering how long this night baseball had been going on after collecting 17 hits for a 12-2 victory over El Paso Austin. Led by Jack Hanks and Terry Schreiner, who had three hits each, every Rebel who batted collected at least one hit in the Massacre. The determined Rebs then came home to dispose of El Paso 9-1. Dwayne Casbeer hit a home run in the second inning, and in the sixth Kenny Jastrow hit a home run over the left field fence. These two wins led the Rebels to the Regional playoffs with Lubbock.

District Co-Champions

Terry Schreiner rounds home on his homerun. Terry was the only Junior picked to the All-District team and then to the All-State Tournament team.

After two years of finishing second in District 2-AAAA, Coach Johnson brought his Rebels through. In the first game, the Rebs simply walked away with the win. Homeruns were hit by Schreiner and Hanks, but in that game everyone hit. In the second game the Bobcats evened up the series after ten innings of play by winning 2-1. It was a pitcher's game all the way as was evident by Weber's whiffing eleven. The Lee run was scored in the sixth as Hanks was walked, Hammond sacrificed Hanks to second, and then Billy Daniel singled to score Hanks to tie 1-1. In the tenth, San Angelo scored and the game was over for the Bobcats but not for the Rebels. Lee came right back with McFarland hurling and won the District Playoff as they beat the Bobcats 3-0. Hanks, Kimble, Casbeer, and McFarland got one hit each. The Rebs were then ready for El Paso.

Co-Captains: Kim Hammond and Bobby Weber.

Head Baseball Coach Ernie Johnson capped his third year at Lee High with resounding success. With his patient tutoring and great store of baseball knowledge, he led his Rebel Baseballers to third place at the 1964 State Tournament. To top off all this, Coach Johnson was voted the coach of the year in District 2-AAAA.

A graduate of Texas A&M, Coach Johnson also teaches Biology and coaches B-team football. In just three years at Lee High School, he has molded a state champion contender with the promise of more to come in the future.

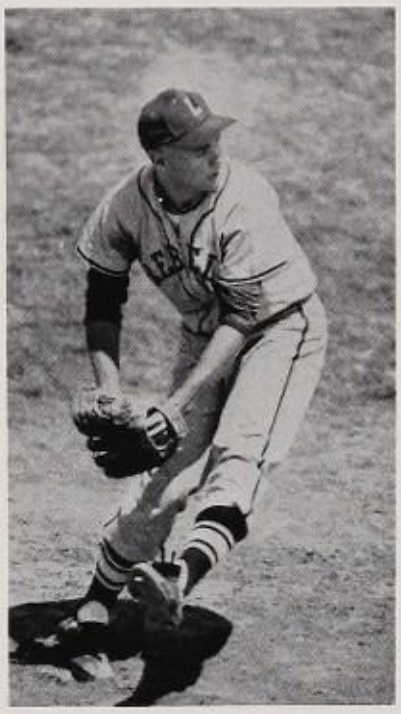
Rebel Pitching Brings Victory

Bobby Weber



Dick McFarland and Catcher, Dwayne Casbeer.

As Coach Johnson would say, "It makes coaching easy when you can start pitchers like Weber and McFarland and feel certain they will get it over with something on it." Dick, just a junior, ended his season with a 9-2 record and was a life-saver in the late district drive and playoffs. Bobby came along with a 11-6 record to wind up his last of three years as a pitcher for the Rebels.
